

The Knickerbocker

Volume 1 - Issue 2 - Winter/Spring 1996

* JULY 14, 1996 - MARK YOUR CALENDARS ****

The Second Annual Knickerbocker Family Reunion is ON for July 14th (Sunday) at The Schaghticoke Mansion. The Society is getting out a larger mailing this year, so we'll see some new cousins. Please respond as soon as possible to help in the planning. I'll drag up a computer from CT so I can swap lies with all the genealogists. Bring copies of any Knickerbocker family info, facts or fancies for the expanding database, everything is welcomed.

The Knickerbocker is published about quarterly, depending on the workload of your editor. The purpose of this newsletter is to support the restoration of the Knickerbocker Mansion and further the goals of:

The Knickerbocker Historical Society
PO Box 29
Schaghticoke, NY 12154

and to provide an exchange for Knickerbocker Family research and information. Please contact:

for all matters dealing with the newsletter. All questions, comments or observations relating to the Knickerbocker Family are welcomed. Informality is the rule. I encourage everyone to start digging into their Knickerbocker ancestry.

Winter 1996 at Schaghticoke - Scaffolding in place for the restoration. Note white stuff.

News from the Mansion -

The roof project went much more slowly than we had anticipated due to the early snow in December (and it never stopped). We were, however, successful in extending the contract with the state until June 30th so we are no longer in a pressure situation to get the work completed. Good thing too, as there was no way it would have been done by Dec. 31st, once the storms hit.

If anyone wants to send donations for the “RESTORATION”, we can certainly use them. We have a little extra money in the state grant so we will be restoring a few of the windows in the current project. But, there are 33 windows... Can't do them all now!

(How about signing up sponsors for each window, room, etc. - and acknowledging the contribution and support with a small plaque at each window or whatever when the restoration is completed? -HK)

For anyone wanting to contact the Society by E-Mail, the Isemans are finally on line. Contact us at Iseman7@aol.com

A note from:
Barbara Knickerbocker
Victor, NY

I recently attended an exhibit of Currier & Ives lithographs at a museum in Rochester, NY. I found an interesting bit of information in the caption of a lithograph of an early baseball game.

“The First Genuine Baseball Team in this Country was The Knickerbocker Base Ball Club, organized in NYC in 1845”

(I bought this reproduction pamphlet of the rules of the Knickerbocker Base Ball Club at the Farmers Museum at Cooperstown. There was quite a bit on the club in the recent PBS Base Ball Show by Ken Burns. I'm a nut for picking up collectibles (junk) with Knickerbocker emblazoned. My best find is a few ginger beer crocks (1850-70) with the initials and name W. P. Knickerbocker on them - I'd love to identify him. - HK)

Salute To the Volunteers

The STEVENS

Contributed by Stana Iseman

Judy Stevens is a wife, mother and the book keeper for three area towns. She grew up in Maryland, does volunteer work for the 4-H, her church, The Easton Fire Company Auxiliary and serves on the Washington County Children's Committee. Judy keeps busy with the Knickerbockers as she is the Historical Society's associate treasurer and works on all of the mansion activities throughout the year.

Jon Stevens is a Nuclear Chemist at the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory. He grew up in Greenwich, NY, a small village 15 miles north of Schaghticoke. One of his hobbies is mountain climbing and he has climbed every peak over 4,000 feet in the northeast. He serves as Treasurer and Trustee for the Eaton Library. His other hobbies are local history and genealogy. Jon works on all the Knickerbocker activities throughout the year and is one of our guides for the mansion tours.

Jon and Judy graduated from the State University of NY at Albany, where they met. They now live on a country road in Easton, NY - which is 8 miles north of Schaghticoke.

The Stevens family includes four daughters and one grandson, Jacob, age 2. Oldest daughter, Janet, is a teacher and Jacobs' mom. Daughters Sarah and Anna Belle are both pharmacists and both plan to marry this summer. The Knickerbocker Historical Society has been hired to provide the food for Anna Belles' reception. Do I smell barbecued chicken? (A marriage at one of the reunions would be neat - HK!).

Judy and Jon went on the first tours we gave of the mansion in 1989. It looked so terrible and was ready to fall down. They signed up as volunteers and have been great helpers at all of the events ever since. If you recall, Judy is one of the cooks at the reunion who added to her nametag "No, I'm not a Knickerbocker!" because the Knickerbockers in attendance thought she was one of the tribe. Jon was giving tours the day of the reunion.

Ancestry Matching: I'll print members ancestry in hopes that you can match up with some near cousins. Please send as much of your ancestry as you have, as this can take the place of writing several queries.

1920 Census:

The following records are from the 1920 Census for New York. The "fam" number indicates a family group and is assigned in random order for sorting. Individuals are also included. I have finished cataloging about 50% of the 1920 census for the entire US. I could use some help on the earlier ones even if it is just your state. 1850, 1860, 1870, 1880 and 1900 are the ones to get done as finding aids for family searches. Please drop a line if you can take some of this on. Once entered into a database, the searches are greatly simplified back to 1850. AE=age, YOB=year of birth, PB=place of birth, rel=relation to head of household.

The following is a bible listing found at the Connecticut State Library. It was received there on 17 May 1957 from Miss Mary Moulthrop who lived at 89 Westminster Road in Rochester, NY. It states that the bible was owned by Mrs. Chester W. Toor of 37 Tracy St., Rochester, NY. and further that it was copied by Mrs. R. W. Smith of the Irondequoit D.A.R. Chapter in 1953.

Miscellaneous:

My first mass mailing experiment (newsletter #1) might have been eaten by the post office sorting machines because I used staples. I got a few notes saying only part of the NL arrived. If you receive this copy and you didn't receive #1, let me know so I can whistle off a replacement. My spiffy new mailing envelopes should cure that problem!

Many thanks to Jeanne Frey for sharing so much of her family history. Her Grandfather, Frank Knickerbocker, was a master gunsmith at The Ithaca Gun Co. An extensive article describing his life and work appeared in "The Double Gun Journal" Volume Four, Issue #4 (Winter 1993). Jeanne has approached the Journal for permission to reprint the article here in the Knickerbocker. I will get a sample copy of the Knickerbocker off to them, along with a permission request, and hopefully we can all enjoy the article here in the next issue.

I keep running into Jeanne's G-Grandfather John in the Hartford, CT records. He was living here by 1865 and son Frank was born in Hartford in 1868. I have John in the Hartford city directories through 1871. I believe the gunsmith heritage could have started with John, as he was a machinist and his Hartford address might indicate employment at Colt Firearms.

I received a query from Boris Bulatkin, whose wife Elaine is Jeanne's cousin. Both Jeanne & Boris are stuck on this line and I will give more detail in the query section.

Here's a little added mystery for Jeanne & Boris - Boarding with John in 1871 at 5 Affleck St. in Hartford was Samuel Knickerbocker, whose occupation was given as a sailor? Also boarding (with his brother?) is a James Knickerbocker. Both John and James are machinists. I'll give the 1870 census a look.

*My G-Grandfather, also John Knickerbocker, came through Hartford several times (1st was 1873) while working on the New England Railroad. His son (my Grandfather) Harry was born in Hartford. This note is to separate the two Hartford "Johns" as there has been much confusion over the two during this period.

During one of storms this winter, the press made mention of the "Knickerbocker" Blizzard of January (7th?) 1922. I believe the name originated in the Washington, DC area as mention was made of 27 inches of snow there. How did the name Knickerbocker get involved?

From Paul F. Knickerbocker of Pittsford, NY -

The newsletter is great! Keep up the good work. We all had a great time at the reunion.

I recently met a man I had corresponded with over 40 years ago. Although he lived close by in Scottsville, I hadn't seen Loren Knickerbocker in 25 years. Unfortunately he died this fall.

Glad you mentioned the "rip-offs". I have personally called a couple of firms and gave them "hell" and offered to give them correct information if they would print it, but of course they were not interested. I'm afraid that many Knickerbocker families have a fake Coat of Arms on the wall and accept all that phony merchandise they have paid good money for. Perhaps a complaint from the Historical Society would be in order.

Now onto Laurens Knickerbocker who was born in either 1684 or 85 depending on how you count. His gravestone reads: "Here Lies the Body of Mr. Lawrence Knickerbocker, who died ye 20th of December, and was buried ye 22nd in the 82 Year of his age in ye Year 1766".

I originally leaned towards the 1684 date but after considering the following I now favor 1685:

- He was baptized on 1 Jan 1686. The Dutch customarily baptized within a short time after birth - 2 or 3 months
- I am now 68 years old. Am I in my 69th year? Next Aug. 17 when I am 69, will I be starting my 70th year?

A final note on the Revolutionary War Abstracts. Harmonus was supposedly a brother of my 4G-Grandfather Lawrence. Some years ago I located his grave and stone in an abandoned cemetery in Hopewell, NY. He died in 1826.

For those of you who have an interest in early Dutch families, I recommend a new newsletter entitled "New Netherland Connections". It is devoted to Dutch family research and is available from its editor:

Dorothy A. Koenig
1232 Carlotta Avenue
Berkeley, CA 94707-5796

Dorothy was very kind to place a query on Harmen Jansen and a plug for the Society in the first issue. Subscriptions are $15 / year (quarterly issues).

Head of Household - The following is a compilation of the new CD ROM census listings. The list is only for the Head of Household through 1860/70. The individual indexes must be consulted to point to the correct census document. A worthwhile project is going to all the original listings for 1850 (and after) to create an every Knickerbocker census listing by year. I maintained the original spellings as a clue to searching these types of indexes. Lots of ways to (mis) spell Knickerbocker.

I received this charming letter from Bertrand Knickerbocker Macpherson, instigator of the competing Knickerbocker Family Reunion - We should have a closed circuit hookup next time. The story presented appears to stretch the existing facts a tad, but we can take that up in the next newsletter. Bertrand's cousin Miranda Knickerbocker deKay also wrote. They are interested in finding Grandfather Rueben Willis Knickerbocker, of NY state. Bertrand and Miranda sent along masses of newspaper clippings on family members which I will display in an upcoming version.

Dear Howard,

I am very delighted to receive your letter and newsletter on the Knickerbockers. You asked for quite a bit of information from me and I will do my best to provide it for you. In turn, perhaps you can help me connect my family to the diverse network of Knickerbockers roaming the planet.

First, let me inform you that Miranda Knickerbocker deKay is my first cousin. She was among the first cousins and their families who met (really for the first time) in Dallas this past summer (July 13-15). Since that happy time we have been interested in doing a genealogy on the family. Very little is known about my grandfather's ancestors. A little is known about his brothers and more particularly one brother. Apparently, a couple of his sons made an effort to learn more about the Family Tree, as I have some material to that effect. But they were very busy people and probably didn't have the time to dig into their past.

Bertrand K. Macpherson
January 1995

At our Dallas gathering, all 12 of the living grandchildren of Hubert Delancey and Julia Katherine (Opdenweyer) KNICKERBOCKER pledged to continue the rapport that sprang from this unusual event. As the oldest of the first cousins at 64, I was commissioned to forge the mass of biographical material into some sort of source book, for all of the other family members. Perhaps now with the interest of your branch of the family, I can find a way to accomplish this.

Genealogy has been an interest of mine for 35 years, but only after this Dallas affair did I start to really take a hard look at family history. I retired from a 40 year career in newspapering and was looking for something interesting to do, genealogy is it! For three months I have been working both sides of my Family Tree. I have been to the public library, museums, a few genealogical libraries and fired off many letters trying to obtain death certificates and searches in faraway places. It has been more than exciting. If I don't receive letters in the mail at least every week, I'm disappointed. I'm always thinking of letters I can write, people I can contact, telephone calls to make, places I can perhaps go to find more about the Family History.

Enclosed with this letter is my printout of the descendants of Reverend H. D. Knickerbocker (1871-1954). I have written to Texas for his death certificate to learn the names of his parents. Strangely, I have almost a complete pedigree of my grandmother Knickerbocker's family, traced back from her mother to the early 1700s. I found the people who placed the information in the Mormon ancestry records. I wrote to them but have not heard anything back.

I am including in this letter a paraphrased account from two letters that one of my uncles, Kenneth L. KNICKERBOCKER, received in September 1933 when he was professor of English at Texas Tech in Lubbock, Texas. The letter was signed "William S. KNICKERBOCKER, editor and publisher of the Sewanee Review published in Nashville, Tennessee." William was acquainted with Kenneth's brother, the well-known journalist, Renfro KNICKERBOCKER. He also knew one of Kenneth's uncles, a Methodist minister named Percy, who preached in Nashville at the time.

"Since I am one of the Hudson River Knickerbockers (the first of nine generations to work or live outside of New York state) and being Knickerbocker on maternal side as well, I am obviously shocked by your confession of haziness concerning Knickerbocker origins. ".Just before the middle of the 17th century one Jan van Bommel (sometimes referred to a Jan van Wie) emigrated from Friesland, the Netherlands. He settled in Manhattan, married the daughter of one of the seven original "patentees" of Harlem and, as I recall, had among his children one Harmon who, in 1673, with some other Dutch youths of New Amsterdam was sent by the English in a sloop to the Barbados where he with the others were to be made captains of British sloops.

"The fleet of sloops, captained by these Dutch lads, of the first families of New Amsterdam, thereupon sailed across the Atlantic, renounced their British allegiance and engaged the British fleet off Solebay in 1674. During the encounter with a British ship which was lashed to Harmon's sloop, Harmon engaged in a hand to hand sword duel with the British captain, was slashed across the cheek and taken prisoner to England. "Later he was released and he returned to New Amsterdam where he lived for awhile until after his marriage when he moved to what is now Dutchess County on the Hudson where Franklin D. Roosevelt's Hyde Park is located. Dutchess County is an anglicized corruption of "Dutcher's County" -hence the "t" in what should be spelled "Duchess" County.

"Harmen's slashed cheek: gave rise to his nickname which in Dutch became "Harmon Jansen van Wie van Bomell van wyjkbake. If you say that very quickly the last two you will get a queer sound like vernikkerbakker which you will recognize as an outlandish and primitive form of the honored name you bear and which in the course of time evolved into kernickerbacker (with variations, sometimes with an 'el' ending in place of the 'er'. Finally, during the 18th century the first syllable vanished and the name, retaining the silent K, became what you and I are called by!

"The name Knickerbocker, therefore, is not Dutch at all but is probably the only purely American coinage of a patronymic but all of that I am not sure. The usual interpretation of the name which has got into currency is that the name means a baker of marbles for which there is no evidence at all. "The documentary evidence for what I have given is preserved in the State Capitol at Albany, where the family coat-of-arms is prominently displayed in the special room where there are coats-of-arms of the original settlers of the state. The original family Dutch Bible is also preserved there; in it are the formal entries of births and deaths.

"On a deed of 1687, also preserved there, the English clerk: has written on the margin of the variations of the name of Harmon Jansen when he transferred a parcel of real estate to somebody else: the clerk: was taking no chances on having Harmon mistaken, so he carefully listed all possible ways of spelling Harmon's name...some eighteen as I recall.

"The upshot of all this is, for my present point, that everyone named Knickerbocker here or in Holland (and there is none there so far as I have been able to discover) is descended from the son of the first Jan van Wie." I notice that this account differs somewhat from your story of Jan Louwe BOGERT, who was the father of the woman who married Harmon Jansen before 1688. Perhaps the account that I have given to you precedes the Bogert story! Had you known his story! I thought it interesting enough to pass along. All of my first cousins from the Knickerbocker reunion in Dallas should have copies of this.

Also included in this mailing are copies of documents which will provide a sampling of the lives of H.D. KNICKERBOCKER and some of his children, all of whom were prominent in their careers. After you look: it all over, should you have any questions, please feel free to ask.

Sarah Hartman of Mechanicville, NY sent a trove of materials on the BOGART Family, as well as the reference to Lawrence's christening on 1 Jan 1686. See "Records of the Reformed Dutch Church of Albany, 1683-1809", published by the Genealogical Publishing Co. of Baltimore, MD, 1978. Witnesses were Antoni and Marietje VANSCHANK. I will include the Bogart information next time. I simply ran out of pages.

In The New Netherlands Connections you mention a book Sketches of Allied Families Knickerbocker - Viele. This caught my attention as I am working on the VIELE (VEALEY) line that evidently has some connection in NY. I would appreciate it if you would send me some information on this book and let me know if you are connected in any way to the Vieles?

(The Viele - Knickerbocker connection was very strong at Schaghticoke, NY. This was the "seat" of one branch of our family. The local society is restoring the old family mansion in that town and the 2nd Knickerbocker family reunion is scheduled there on July 14. There are still Vieles in the neighborhood, but I am too distant to be of much help there. I will place a query for you in the next Knickerbocker newsletter to see if we can stir up some distant cousins for you.

I've enclosed the Viele section of the "Sketches" pamphlet and I'm sure you'll find help in the NY Genealogical & Biographical Review (NYG&B). Most genealogical libraries have this available. -HK) Any Viele searchers out there who could give Betty a hand?

I saw your query in New Netherlands Connections. Unfortunately, I have no information to share with you. However, I would be interested in getting information about your newsletter.

My wife descends from William KNICKERBOCKER (1778-1858). His wife's name was Arpatia, surname unknown, 1784-1848. I believe that he lived near Smithville Flats in Chenengo County, (NY) but may have been born somewhere in eastern New York. If you have any information about this family, I would be very interested.

Howard, I got your name from a newsletter given to me by Gerald KNICKERBOCKER of Binghamton, NY. I am descended from Chloe BIRD and Edward BIESECKER of Madison Twp, Lackawanna Co, PA. Edward died 1890, and Chloe remarried to a Jay KNICKERBOCKER from the same area. They moved to Broome Co, NY sometime after that and appear in the Binghamton -Johnson City directory up until 1916. After that, Jay appears alone. I know Chloe didn't die then because my great-aunt remembers her into the 1920's. There were children from this marriage, but I have no info. Looking for death date & place of Chloe [BIRD] [BIESECKER] KNICKERBOCKER.

Any information you have on her would be very helpful in my research I also have all of Chloe's parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, and siblings if you would like that information.

Hi Terry, Thanks for the inquiry. I'll add your name to the newsletter mailing list if you'll send your mail address. Is Gerald Kn. a relative or ? Did he check the Binghamton vitals?

I didn't find anything on Jay or Chloe in the 1900 or 1920 census. I have another Jay in my family records but he appears to young to fit the 1895 time frame. I will put your query in the next newsletter & see if someone else has some info for you.)

I'm searching for information on my grandfathers' brothers. His name was Arvine Martel KNICKERBOCKER (1856 - 1936).
(Do you have your grandfathers place of birth or his parents names? This is where having the 1860 Census cataloged would make the search easier.)

Would like information on the parents / ancestors of John KNICKERBOCKER, b. 6 Nov 1819 & d. 14 Aug 1910 @ Ithaca, NY. John was m. to Kathryn VAN KUNEN 27 Sep 1851 @ Valatie, NY. They had one son Franklyn, b. @ Hartford, CT 7 Oct 1868. Two possible siblings are James, b. 1852? & Mary Augusta, b. 1857? (from 1860 census of Columbia Co., NY)

John's death certificate states his father was Peter J. KNICKERBOCKER. John's birthplace is given as Wyoming Co., NY on this document.

(3 potential lines to Peter J. Knickerbocker:
⇒ [Harmen¹, Lawrence², Cornelius³, Johannes⁴, Peter⁵]. This Peter b. 5 Dec 1773 @ Pine Plains.
⇒ [Harmen¹, Lawrence², Pieter³, Benjamin⁴, Peter⁵]. This Peter b. 16 Oct 1791 @ Gallatin.
⇒ [Harmen¹, Lawrence², Pieter³, Pieter⁴, Pieter⁵]. This Pieter b. abt 1796 @ ?

I find no Knickerbockers in Wyoming Co. 1790-1820. Does anyone know when that county formed? All the Peters are in Dutchess & Columbia Co. during this period. I suspect the death certificate, with respect to John's birthplace, is incorrect. A potential clue to identifying the family is Samuel H. and James in Hartford with John. I assume they are his brothers.)

I am a Knickerbocker from my mother's father's mother, Hannah D. KNICKERBOCKER 1827-189?. Her father was John B. KNICKERBOCKER 1809-?, and mother was Mary H. 1808-?. John & Mary had at least 15 children, Hannah being the 2nd.

I am eager to find which branch John comes from. My guess is from William Winne KNICKERBOCKER & Eve VIELE. I have placed the family in the 1850 Wawarsing (Ulster Co.) census and then all I find of them in the later census's are the older children in Sullivan & Ulster Co. Can anyone help me solve my mystery?

(John, s. of William WINNE & Eve VIELE m. Susan DeRIDDER 8 Jan 1834. This probably eliminates this tribe if my notes are correct. I have 46 Johns in my database, but no help here. Anyone have any leads?)
